

Zobe Group is a multinational, global leader in product development and manufacturing, key partner of the top Home & Personal Care FMCG's companies. With 5,000 employees, 6 industrial sites, 4 development centers and 2 innovation hubs in 8 countries, Zobe Group strives to provide its customers with superior world-class products and services by focusing on the continuous development and career progress of its employees at all levels.

Zobe Group manages a global Talent Acquisition and Fast Track Program with the aim to give young talented people the opportunity to get experience in more lean and profitable organization and to provide them an important first step in a new employee's career development path.

For its Bulgarian site the Group is looking for young:

ENGINEERING TRAINEE

willing to join the team and to contribute to the growth of the Group and its success.

Location: Industrial zone Rakovski near Stryama, Plovdiv (transport from Plovdiv provided by the Company)

Your Role

As part of our Talent Program you'll be challenged to work in various projects on Plant and Group level. This is an exciting full time opportunity, during which you will enjoy job rotations and will be involved in project base overseas assignments.

The aim of our Talent Program

The aim of our Talent Program is to engage you into a fast career development path through continuous opportunities to learn from the best professionals in the Company. Mentors will continuously support you to develop your potential by providing on-the-job training and formal learning. In accordance with your talent and leadership skills growing you will drive your career within the Group.

Your Experience and Qualifications

We are looking for young professionals with University degree in Engineering or related field - recently graduated or students in the last year of their study.

The role ideally fits a dynamic and positive person, able to handle challenges and work effectively in a fast-paced, multicultural environment. Accuracy and attention to detail is critical along with solid interpersonal and communication skills.

Fluency in English is required.

Join US

Zobebe Group is a dynamic, fast paced, multicultural environment.

We empower our People in taking initiative, to strive for excellence and make a difference.

Apply now and join the Zobebe Group worldwide team!

If you are interested in the above opportunity, please send your resume and cover letter to:

jobs.bg@zobebe.com

